CALL FOR FIRST NATIONS ARTIST INTERPRETATIONS

First Nations' Emergency Services Society

OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

LOGO DESIGN CONTEST

In the summer of 2022, First Nations' Emergency Services Society of BC (FNESS) will be launching our new website and introducing our new logo. We are looking for First Nation artists to submit their artwork that reflects our work, our values and the four pillars of emergency management.

The submitted works will be selected by a FNESS committee. Once the final selection is purchased it will become the sole property of FNESS for use on advertising posters, flyers, websites, printed materials and various promotional materials. The artwork must translate well into poster format, printed material and promotional material, including clothing. Submission rules below.

FNESS serves First Nations in developing and sustaining safer and healthier communities through emergency planning, training, response and recovery; fire training, education and prevention; forest fuel and wildfire management; and leadership and collaborative relationships.

Our Values

Courage: Strength and curiosity while determining the most beneficial actions with communities.
Honesty: Open and transparent environments in all actions.
Integrity: Consistent and accountable for all actions, assessing and adapting as needed.
Passion: Acknowledging enthusiasm and initiative; rewarding success regularly.
Respect: Inclusiveness and teamwork that allows fairness, balance, and harmony in all activities; appreciative of all cultural diversities.
Trustworthiness: Providing credible and state-of-the-art recognized services.

The relaunch of the FNESS brand will reflect First Nations' resilience and culture, FNESS values, and the four pillars of emergency management, mitigation, preparation, response and recovery.

To Make a Submission: Please submit an electronic copy or photograph of your artwork, a description of your artwork and how it represents the FNESS values and the four pillars of emergency management. Please also include a short artist biography.

The deadline for submissions is 4:00 pm on June 22, 2022. We appreciate all submissions however only the winner will be contacted.

Please send submissions to:

Duty to Report

REPORTING CONCERNS ABOUT CHILDREN AND YOUTH

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Protecting Children and Youth Is Everyone's Responsibility

WHO SHOULD REPORT?

In BC anyone who has reason to believe that a child or youth under 19 has been or is likely to be abused or neglected and that the parent is unwilling or unable to protect the child or youth, must report the suspected abuse or neglect to the Ministry of Children and Family Development.

Everyone in the community should be alert to signs of abuse or neglect in children and youth. Their safety, welfare and well-being are a community responsibility.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/public-safety-and-emergency-services/public-safety/protecting-children/childabusepreventionhandbook_serviceprovi der.pdf

WHEN MUST A REPORT BE MADE

A report to the Ministry of Children and Family Development must be made when you have reason to believe that a child or youth:

a) Has been, or is likely to be, physically harmed, sexually abused or sexually exploited by a parent or another person and the parent is unwilling or unable to protect the child or youth;
b) Has been or is likely to be physically harmed because of neglect by the child or youth's parent;
c) Is emotionally harmed by the parent's conduct;
d) Is or has been absent from home in circumstances that endanger the child or youth's safety or well-being;
e) Has been abandoned and adequate provisions have not been made for the child or youth's care;
f) Is living in a situation where there is domestic violence by or towards a person with whom the child or youth resides;
g) Is likely to have seriously impaired development by a treatable condition and the child or youth's parent refuses to provide consent to treatment;
h) Has a parent that is unable or unwilling to care for the child or youth and has not made adequate provisions for the child or youth's care; or
i) Has a parent that is no longer alive and adequate provisions have not been made for the child or youth's care.

WHAT DOES "REASON TO BELIEVE" MEAN?

"Reason to believe" simply means that, based on what you have seen or information you have received, you believe a child or youth has been or is likely to be at risk. You do not need to be certain. It is the child protection worker's job to determine whether abuse or neglect has occurred or is likely to occur.

FAILURE TO REPORT

Failing to promptly report suspected abuse or neglect to the Ministry of Children and Family Development is a serious offence under the Child, Family and Community Service Act and carries a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine, six months in jail, or both.

No action for damages may be brought against you for reporting information under the Child, Family and Community Service Act unless you knowingly report false information, or the report was not made in good faith.
