Tašiiʔakqin ʔuyaqḥmisukqin (OUR JOURNEY, OUR STORY)

SEEKING: Youth Representative (age 16-30) for Research Advisory Committee

In person or virtual attendance options. Honouraria Provided.

Background:

Tašiiʔakqin ʔuyaqḥmisukqin is a community-based research project that continues the work Heather Castleden (University of Victoria) and Onyx Sloan Morgan (University of British Columbia – Okanagan) have been conducting in partnership with the nation since 2010. The overarching goal is to work in solidarity with the Nation and engage in research that responds to the Nation's priorities concerning treaty negotiations and implementation.

Our research is resulting in unique new knowledge and understanding about the Treaty, particularly from the perspectives of Huu-ay-aht citizens, and creates public, governmental, and nation-to-nation awareness about the challenges and priorities for Huu-ay-aht First Nations. A Huu-ay-aht Advisory Committee meets with us on a monthly-to-quarterly basis to provide invaluable guidance, and to check in, revisit, revise, and analyze all aspects of the research before the research team proceeds.

The Tašiiʔakqin ʔuyaqḥmisukqin research project is looking for a youth representative to join our research Advisory Committee. You would contribute to guiding the direction of various aspects of the research project, contribute to analyzing research findings, and offering your perspective on different research activities. This is a great opportunity for youth to get involved in research activities taking place in the Nation. For high school students, the Advisory Committee is also a way for you to earn your volunteer hours needed for graduation!

The Advisory Committee meetings once a month in person in Port Alberni, but you can also join virtually if desired. You will be provided with an honouraria for your time, as well as a travel stipend to attend in-person meetings.

We are looking for a Huu-ay-aht Youth that is:

- Eager to learn about Huu-ay-aht's path to treaty;
- Eager to learn about social science research;
- Is respectful and has effective communication skills;
- Able to listen and process information on the spot

- Responsibility of Committee members:
  - Attend 6-12 meetings per year
  - Provide insights, thoughts, feedback on various research activities

If you have any questions about this position, please call Onyx at: (250) 508-3410, or email: onyx.sloanmorgan@ubc.ca; or call Heather at: (902) 489-2412, or email: castleden@uvic.ca. You can also reach out to any member of the Advisory Committee if you would like to know more about your role on the committee.
