THE JOURNEY TO WELLNESS: ADDRESSING OUR SEXUAL ABUSE, ABANDONMENT & SHAME

Contact: Kerry-Ann Collinge (250-723-0100) & Cory Howard Sr. (250-728-3414)

10-DAY HEALING WORKSHOP

Space available for a maximum of 8 participants.

Unresolved trauma and shame, due to sexual abuse, continues to have a devastating impact on Huu-ay-aht citizens.

In a culturally sensitive and trauma-informed environment, facilitators will support women to look at the personal impacts of sexual abuse and trauma, abandonment, shame and unresolved grief. Through a series of exercises and participation in cultural ceremonies and traditions, participants will move towards healing.

Facilitators will put an emphasis on creating personal safety, trust, grief work and self-care as necessary components of the healing process. Participants will leave the workshop with a greater understanding of skills, tools, and resources to assist with ongoing healing steps that can be taken on the journey to wellness.

Who: Women 19 and older
When: February 4 - 14, 2024 (arriving Sunday, February 4, 2024 and group begins on Monday, February 5, 2024)
Where: Campbell River
Cost: No cost to citizens
Transportation: Will be provided or gas cards will be given
Additional Info: Intake appointments will be scheduled with interested participants, also women must make a commitment to attend all ten-days

Question of Interest

Huu-ay-aht First Nations would like to know if there is any interest to citizens in having a Secure Certificate of Indian Status 10-year card (SCIS): Application for already registered persons. table at the meet and greet on Friday, November 17.

If yes, here are the following things a citizen must have the following:

- A valid (Not expired) piece of photo ID : Drivers License, Provincial ID, Health Service card, Passport
- Status Number
- Your name must match past status card (if not we will require the name change certificate).
- If applicant is a minor (0 – 15) and if applicable to application : guardianship documents, custody court documents, adoption documents are required.

This table is strictly for the renewal of status cards not to obtain one. Meaning, if you have an expired card, we will be able to assist you in renewing. We can help with filling out the application, taking your photo and mailing the application. We will not be giving out laminated cards. If you are looking to obtain status please book an appointment with Huu-ay-aht's Legal and Administrative Services using the contact below.

For questions or to express interest please contact Huu-ay-aht Law Clerk at 250-723-0100 or lawclerk@huuayaht.org

Huu-ay-aht First Nations Guiding Principles

These principles guide us in everything we do, how we work together and with others, and how we build a healthy and safe work environment for all.

Everyone plays a role in creating a healthy & safe work environment.

Huu-ay-aht Guiding Principles are demonstrated in our workplace and in our performance by:

ʔiisaak- Respect	ʔuuʔałuk – Taking Care of	Hišuk ma c̓áwak – Everything is one
Greater Respect. Personal and collective respect for the community and its people, traditional knowledge, the natural world, the metaphysical world and other peoples and communities. Leaders exemplify ethical practices, professionalism, and personal integrity. They create respectful and trusting work environments where sound advice is valued. They encourage the expression of diverse opinions and perspectives while fostering collegiality. Leaders are self-aware and seek out opportunities for personal growth. Demonstrate through: • Holds self and the organization to the highest ethical and professional standards. • Models' commitment to citizen-focused service and the public interest • Implements practices to advance an inclusive, healthy organization, respectful of the diversity of people and their skills and free from harassment and discrimination. • Exemplifies impartial and non-partisan decision-making. • Engages in self-reflection and acts upon insights.	Taking Care Of. In this context, this is about taking care of present and future generations and the resources provided by the land, water, and the natural world. Leaders are deliberate and resourceful about seeking the widest possible spectrum of perspectives. They demonstrate openness and flexibility to forge consensus and improve outcomes. They bring a whole-of-government perspective to their interactions. In negotiating solutions, they are open to alternatives and skillful at managing expectations. Leaders share recognition with their teams and partners. Demonstrate through: • Builds and nurtures effective collaborative networks and relationships with communities, citizens, colleagues, and stakeholders. • Engages others to support horizontal initiatives. • Actively listens to understand the impact of issues and perspectives of others. • Implements strategies that enhance collaboration. • Acknowledges the contribution of others in achieving objectives.	Everything is One. A notion of the interconnected, interdependent, and reciprocal relationship between the people, the land, and the wider world(s) in a physical, spiritual and social sense. Leaders define the future and chart a path forward. They are adept at understanding and communicating context, factoring in the economic, social, and cultural environment. Intellectually agile, they leverage their deep and broad knowledge, build on diverse ideas and perspectives, and create consensus around compelling visions. Leaders balance the First Nations' and Western Society's views to improve outcomes for Huu-ay-aht. Demonstrate through: • Bringing forward both sides to create a strong vision for everyone. • Informs decisions through an understanding of the whole environment. • Engages others to translate implementation strategies into concrete objectives. • Communicates with clarity and conviction. • Implements strategies that respond to organizational priorities that improve outcomes for Huu-ay-aht.
